

Solution to the puzzle:

The boat. In the water, the coin displaces its volume of water; in the boat it displaces its weight of water. Since coin metal is heavier than water, the coin weighs more than its corresponding volume of water does.

